

Charles C. Craft

Chuck joined the firm in August 1986 after graduating from Bowling Green State University and spending six years with a national accounting firm. He is an audit partner of Flagel, Huber, Flagel & Co. and serves as accounting and auditing coordinator. As an audit partner, Chuck has responsibility over several for-profit and non-profit entities, including compliance with governmental regulations and OMB Circular A-133.

In addition to his audit experience, Chuck has a variety of experiences in internal control evaluations, conducting cash audits, and consulting with medical and dental practices regarding their practice management. He is a member of the firm's Internal Examination Review Committee, a group that oversees the quality of the firm's accounting and auditing practice.

Chuck is a member of the American Institute of CPAs and Ohio Society of CPAs. He has held board positions with the American Heart Association, the downtown YMCA, American Business Club, and has served in other capacities for many civic organizations.
